Washington, April 25.—(U.P.)—Plans to tighten prohibition enforcement went forward in congress today while wets and drys were sorting nearly a million words of facts and thousands of figures from the three months of prohibition hearings before the house judiciary committee.

The enforcement reform program recently recommended by the law enforcement commission was taken up by the senate judiciary committee in an executive session. Out of it was expected a favorable report of the Williamson bill transferring enforcement activities from the treasury to the justice department.

The committee met to prepare the measure for early consideration in the senate. Polls of the committee indicated it would receive almost unanimous approval.

The bill was recommended by the Overman sub-committee in virtually the same form in which it passed the house. The measure would leave the industrial alcohol unit in the treasury but would give Attorney General Mitchell veto power over alcohol permits.

The measure has been recommended by President Hoover, by Chairman Wickham of the Law Enforcement Commission, and by Mitchell as imperative for bettering law enforcement conditions.

Closing of the house judiciary committee hearings late yesterday has brought to an end the most extensive analysis of prohibition yet obtained. The hearings lasted three months and both wets and drys spent considerable energy and money to build up an 800,000 word record, 120 times as long as the average novel.

With the Johnson's Veterans' bill safely passed, the House turned today to routine calendar legislation. The senate, meanwhile, continued to debate the Harris Immigration Bill on which an expected vote has been delayed for three days.

The bill, as it now stands, leaves unchanged the national origins formula of determining immigration quotas, an amendment to repeal it having been defeated yesterday.

Prohibition occupied the lobby committee which continued its investigation of the alleged lobby activities of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

President Henry H. Curran of the organization was to testify today for the seventh time. The committee, however, planned to finish with him and call Capt. W. H. Stayton, chairman of the association's board of directors to appear next Tuesday.

An explosive document, making members of congress who vote dry and drink wet, and recording other political secrets, presenting a perplexing problem to the senate lobby committee.

The committee debated whether or not to place the document, seized from the files of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, in its record and thus make it public. As the delicate question of congressional courtesy was involved, observers were confident the politically dynamic list of alleged imbibers would be smothered.

Routine calendar bills were the business of the day in the house, which prepared for lively debates when it takes up the tariff bill again next week.

The long hearings on branch and chain banking which have occupied the House Banking and Currency committee for more than a month continued today.

St. Paul, April 25.—(U.P.)—The day when a million private airplane owners will utilize their "wings" was predicted within 15 years by Charles Coolidge Parlin, director of the research department of the Curtis Publishing company, Philadelphia, who spoke before the aviation committee of the St. Paul Association of Commerce today.

Parlin, who made a survey of aviation during which he flew more than 20,000 miles, believes that large scale farmers and ranchers have a real need for planes to oversee their vast holdings. Eventually he believes airplanes will take off from small areas.

BEACH, CALIF.

Laguna Beach, Calif., April 25.—(U.P.)—The gay artists' colony of Laguna Beach today mourned the deaths of Mrs. Guy Bates Post and Mrs. Doris Palmer, two of the most prominent members of the tiny seaside community.

The long and intimate friendship of the two women ended late yesterday in what police termed murder and suicide.

Friends, returning Mrs. Palmer's pet dog, found the two bodies lying in the picturesque bungalow built by Mrs. Palmer a few years ago when she came to Laguna Beach to become a leading spirit in theatrical life of the colony.

Officers called to the bungalow discovered a .32 caliber pearl-handled revolver under the body of Mrs. Post and declared that she had shot Mrs. Palmer and then killed herself while in a jealous rage.

Mrs. Post, 50, known on the stage two decades ago as Adele Ritchie, and outstanding beauty of the time, was divorced last year from Guy Bates Post, celebrated actor.

Mrs. Palmer, 10 years younger than her friend, was the former wife of Dr. Clinton Foster Palmer, Albert Lea, Minn., physician, whom she married nine years ago and divorced after a year.

The two women, evidently drawn together by kindred pleasures of an artistic nature, were virtually inseparable during the several years they lived six blocks apart in Laguna Beach.

A friend of Mrs. Palmer's, Mrs. Frances Berry, of Los Angeles and Laguna Beach, called to ask her to luncheon in the village. Mrs. Post, according to police, was not included in the invitation and apparently disliked to see Mrs. Palmer go without her. After a discussion, Mrs. Berry left alone.

At 2 P. M., authorities were told, Mrs. Berry called the Palmer bungalow from the village and the telephone was unanswered. As far as is known, Mrs. Berry was the last person to see Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Post alive.

The next definite information was furnished by Verner Rush and Mrs. Kenneth Browne, also friends of Mrs. Palmer. They said they found her small spaniel wandering on a street and took to their friend's home because they feared it would fight with other dogs and be injured. They found the bodies.

FROM DRY RAIDERS

Dubuque, Ia., April 25.—(U.P.)—Edward Foht, 38, was in serious condition today after being shot by dry raiders as he fled from a still on Bishop Island in the Mississippi river near here.

The shots were fired, members of the raiding force said, by Sheriff Joe Goerer, Grant county, Wisconsin, when Foht fled upon seeing the raiders approaching the still.

The raiding force, composed of Sheriff Goerer, Deputy Sheriff Stanley Cloan and State Officer Ed Smith, confiscated the still which, they claimed Foht, a world war veteran, was operating.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 25.—(U.P.)—A technical charge of murder was faced today by A. McPherson, deputy sheriff, who shot to death 20-year-old Charles Gammons during a raid on the youth's still yesterday.

McPherson, accompanied on the raid by another officer, said he shot Gammons in self defense. The youth, according to McPherson, "was taking aim at me," when I shot him.

Rome, April 25.—(U.P.)—A closer bond of friendship between Benito Mussolini, head of the Fascist state, and the Vatican, which may result in Mussolini making his long delayed visit to long delayed visit to the pope, was seen today in the evident piety the premier displayed at the wedding of his daughter.

The visit has been expected since the signing of the Italo-Vatican accords and the restoration of the Pope's temporal power, but unlike the king and queen of Italy, the premier who made the accords possible hitherto has refrained from calling at the Vatican.

The wedding of Signorina Edda Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano yesterday was strictly a Catholic wedding, however, and followed the general Italian custom since the Italo-Vatican accords of omitting the former civil ceremonies. Mussolini accompanied his daughter and her husband to St. Peter's tomb and gave rise to the belief he shortly would visit the Pope personally.

At St. Peter's cathedral, Mussolini indicated his catholic faith by kissing the bronze foot of St. Peter's statue, a custom followed by all Catholic pilgrims who enter the edifice. He and his wife knelt with the bride and groom, and prayed at the apostle's tomb.

New York, April 25.—(U.P.)—The "dear, dear days" of the steins, silver flizz, the Tom Collins and the abstinent frappe came crowding back last night as 2,000 members of Bartenders' Union, local No. 70, danced away the evening with their wives, daughters and sweethearts.

There were men there who had shouted to a skinny waiter called Irving Berlin in Nigger Mike Salter's place in Pell street long before Andrew Volstead came out of the west. Last night they clinked their soda pop glasses together in toasts for things as they used to be and then solemnly took a survey of the guests.

With their backs to high explosives threatening to blow them sky high without warning, 15 men this afternoon won out over flames which threatened to ignite powder houses near Cuyuna.

Flames spreading from a nearby brush fire swept close in on them but the men stuck to their work in the face of great danger and fought them back, thus averting a tremendous explosion and possible disaster.

The houses are owned by the Du Pont and Hercules companies and are used for the storage of dynamite and powders, used in the mines on the Cuyuna range.

Officials of the company were at the scene of the fire this afternoon and could not be reached to determine how much explosives the houses contained.

The men were requested to remain near the powder houses as a precautionary measure should the flames again threaten the explosives.

The fire was reported to have started at the side of a road in Deerwood township by a smoker who carelessly discarded a lighted cigarette.

Fires were smoldering over a large area today and all forestry protection men under direction of District Ranger E. G. Rhodes were on duty guarding against new outbreaks.

A fire swept down from Cass county through Trefine township and into the northern part of Allen township covering an area of 15 sections or 9,600 acres. Fifty men fought the flames which were believed to have started near the old railroad grade north of Swanburg. The fire was reported as under control this afternoon.

Twenty men brought flames under control this afternoon that had swept over 500 acres northeast of Pine River, and 15 men were employed fighting fires which are still burning but reported under control north of Pillager in Home Brook township. The fire burned over half a section.

Maple Grove, St. Mathias and Baxter townships were also affected by woods fires today. In Maple Grove township flames swept over 160 acres.

Ralph Friedman, vice president and secretary of Alfred S. Alschuler, Inc., Chicago construction company which built the station, resumed testimony that a crack in the southwest party wall was not important because the wall bore no weight of the building.

Charges that the building was faulty in construction and that the government had paid an excessive rental for the commercial station have been made in St. Paul and on the senate floor in Washington.

During cross-examination by United States District Attorney L. L. Drill yesterday, Wallace C. Lyon, treasury department engineering expert admitted that he based his statement that the building was "99 per cent safe" on a three day visual inspection and that he had not tested structural materials, whether the building rested on a bog, the safety of the elevator shafts or whether the building was a fire hazard.

By HARRY W. SHARPE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Columbus, O., April 25.—Defying the sullen convict mob which clamors for his removal, Warden P. E. Thomas warned today that he would use stern discipline to lift Ohio state penitentiary out of the chaos which followed Monday night's fire tragedy.

The warden, strengthened by the support of Gov. Myers Y. Cooper for the time being, said he had no intention of resigning and added that "if these prisoners don't quiet down pretty quickly, I'll use forceful methods against them if it takes a soldier to every man."

The threat of a violent outbreak, meanwhile, was believed lessened, although the convicts milling about in the cellhouse corridors continued to jeer the guards and curse Warden Thomas.

Through a spokesman the prisoners outburst if the demands were granted, on a campaign of passive resistance. They submitted a new list of demands last night coupled with a note which indicated they would attempt no new outburst if the demands were granted. The petition read:

"We appeal to you for the following:

"1.—That Warden Thomas never returns to the penitentiary unless as an inmate.

"2.—That we are not to be locked in our cells until we have a fireproof penitentiary.

"3.—That we be given 'good-time' marks that we deserve.

"4.—That we be given a fair wage for our work.

"5.—That the present parole board be dismissed.

"6.—That the new parole board consist of 12 honest citizens, men and women, instead of two.

"We want to avoid prison breaks, riots and keep down trouble."

Throughout the night, prisoners in four cell blocks moved about restlessly, but only occasionally was there any evidence of a disturbance. Guards coped with these indications of trouble by speaking quietly with the men and restored order.

Prison authorities were taking no chances. A squadron of national guardmen remained in readiness in the guard room which adjoins the "White City" section and the other three blocks in which the resentful prisoners walked about.

The official investigating committee, headed by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, worked until midnight questioning prison officials and convicts, but nothing was discovered that would fix either cause or responsibility for the fire which killed 320 inmates.

Bettman and Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, agree with the convicts that Warden Thomas should be removed, but when the attorney general went to Governor Cooper with such a demand, the governor refused it.

"Constitutional authority will prevail," the governor said, "until the inquiry has been finished." He issued a statement which, in part, was a plea to the convicts to abandon their mutiny and return peacefully to prison routine.

"Everything that it is humanly possible to do," he said, "is being done for their welfare."

Yet the prisoners, encouraged by their victories yesterday in winning a 30-day reprieve for John Richardson, Akron murderer, and a liberal allowance of tobacco for themselves, insisted today upon the new demands, above all the dismissal of Warden Thomas.

Several prisoners have testified at the investigation that Thomas's rule at the penitentiary is so tyrannical that there were men at the prison who should have been released years ago, but who are imprisoned beyond their terms because of having incurred the warden's displeasure.

One of the punishments at the prison, convicts testified, consists of stripping convicts and forcing them to stand beneath icy cold showers, as to flogging and confinement in "The

MISSING MEN

Greenwich, Conn., April 25.—(U.P.)—Nine men were reported missing today after the Bridgeport freighter Thames caught fire and had to be abandoned in Long Island Sound.

Greenwich police were unable to say whether the missing men might have drowned, been trapped in the blazing hull or had escaped to nearby Captains Island, a barren, uninhabited body of land several miles off shore.

The estimate of nine lost was based on reports from New York that the Thames had left there yesterday for Bridgeport with a crew of 24.

Fifteen persons had been accounted for after an all night search by the coast guard. Volunteer pilots joined the search with their craft today in an effort to learn the fate of the missing men.

Nine persons were said to have been picked up by the coast guard picket boat 122 and put aboard the Steamer Lexington, which stood by.

Five others were reported aboard the City of New Bedford. The chief engineer, Clarence Tibbets, was picked up by an oyster boat several hours in the water and carried to Bridgeport.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 25.—(U.P.)—The Bridgeport office of the Thames River Line, Inc., owners of the Steamer Thames which caught fire and was abandoned in Long Island Sound last night, was informed in a message from Providence, R. I., today that Captain Robert Sherman of Stratford and eight of his crew had been landed there by the Colonial Liner Lexington.

Reports received by the company indicate 15 have been rescued. The exact number of the crew which started from New York was uncertain, officials stated, because of crew shifts at that point, but it was believed to be 24.

Silence imposed upon members of the crew of the Freighters Thames added today to the mystery which surrounds the burning of the vessel and the disappearance of at least 24 men.

Apparently no one knows the cause of the fire that crackled through the hold last night as the freighter wallowed in the swell of Long Island Sound. But more mysterious than that is the charge—made by George W. Wilson, master of the oyster boat—that vessels, attracted to the scene by the "Thames" calls for aid, ignored the fundamental rule of the sea that the utmost assistance must be given to a stricken craft.

Hole—a darkened, soundproof, solitary cell equipped only with a lavatory—were other punishments cited at the inquiry.

Columbus, O., April 25.—(U.P.)—Reassuring calm settled over the state penitentiary today for the first time since Monday night's cell block fire which cost 321 lives.

Tension among 1,600 prisoners in "White City" who have refused to observe prison discipline until Warden P. E. Thomas is removed, was lessening. The men still were insistent that Thomas resign but they were less vehement and some of them volunteered to return to work, in contrast to threats of open revolt yesterday and last night.

Conditions were so quiet that Colonel Robert Haubrich, in charge of troops guarding the penitentiary, said his forces would be reduced by 200 men.

The convicts were unruly for a time last night, but apparently wearied of bickering and, with nerves frayed, most of them retired to their cells to sleep.

Thomas has refused to resign "because there is no reason why I should," and it was intimated that unless Attorney General Zilbeth Bettman's inquiry develops evidence of gross negligence, the governor will support him.

Bettman resumed his investigation today and officials, meantime, were preparing to transfer 550 convicts to other prisons, relieving congestion in the over-crowded penitentiary.

Evidence submitted thus far brought out five principal points:

1.—The possibility that faulty wiring, not incendiarism, caused the blaze.

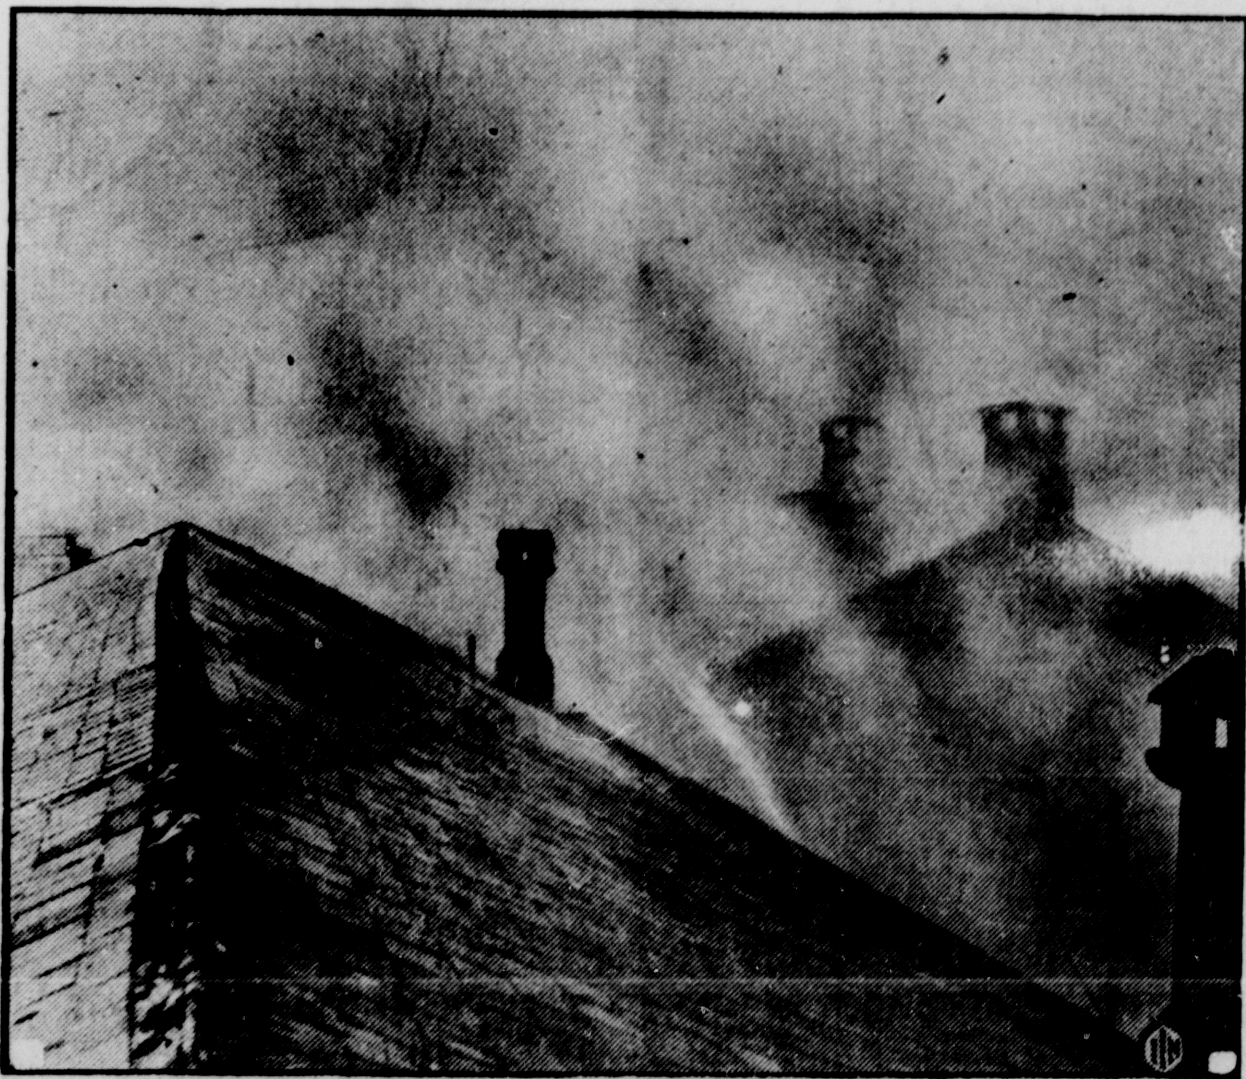

2.—The delay in opening the cells after the fire was discovered.

3.—The starting of two other fires by convicts.

4.—The time the fire started and the time the first alarm was turned on.

5.—The orders of Warden Thomas to stand beneath icy cold showers, as to the release of the men from their cells.

FOR BUILDING

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—(UP)—Owners and builders of the St. Paul Commercial postoffice building today marshalled their forces at the trial of the owners' appeal from a condemnation award of $317,572 fixed by a federal appraisal commission.

Ralph Friedman, vice president and secretary of Alfred S. Alschuler, Inc., Chicago construction company which built the station, resumed testimony that a crack in the southwest party wall was not important because the wall bore no weight of the building.

Charges that the building was faulty in construction and that the government had paid an excessive rental for the commercial station have been made in St. Paul and on the senate floor in Washington.

During cross-examination by United States District Attorney L. L. Drill yesterday, Wallace C. Lyon, treasury department engineering expert admitted that he based his statement that the building was "99 per cent safe" on a three day visual inspection and that he had not tested structural materials, whether the building rested on a bog, the safety of the elevator shafts or whether the building was a fire hazard.

prevalence of fires in the woods. Men fighting flames reported seeing partridges flying out of the smoke with singed wings and then flying into the smoke again to protect their nests. Forestry men also told of seeing rabbits burned to the skin fleeing from the fire areas.

"So far no one has reported seeing deer driven out by the flames but the fires are burning over some fine game lands," E. H. Rhodes said.

Mr. Rhodes blamed careless smokers and campers for the start of many fires.

Calcutta, India, April 25.—(UP)—A mob of 4,000 rioters renewed nationalist independence demonstrations at Neela, near Diamond Harbor, today and clashed with a strong police detachment.

Diamond Harbor is 34 miles from Calcutta.

SOUNDVOLUNTEER PILOTS JOIN IN SEARCH TO LEARN FATE OF
MISSING MEN

Greenwich, Conn., April 25.—(UP)—Nine men were reported missing today after the Bridgeport freighter Thames caught fire and had to be abandoned in Long Island Sound.

Greenwich police were unable to say whether the missing men might have drowned, been trapped in the blazing hull or had escaped to nearby Captains Island, a barren, uninhabited body of land several miles off shore.

The estimate of nine lost was based on reports from New York that the Thames had left there yesterday for Bridgeport with a crew of 24.

Fifteen persons had been accounted for after an all night search by the coast guard. Volunteer pilots joined the search with their craft today in an effort to learn the fate of the missing men.

Nine persons were said to have been picked up by the coast guard picket boat 122 and put aboard the Steamer Lexington, which stood by. Five others were reported aboard the City of New Bedford. The chief engineer, Clarence Tibbets, was picked up by an oyster boat several hours in the water and carried to Bridgeport.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 25.—(UP)—The Bridgeport office of the Thames River Line, Inc., owners of the Steamer Thames which caught fire and was abandoned in Long Island Sound last night, was informed in a message from Providence, R. I., today that Captain Robert Sherman of Stratford and eight of his crew had been landed there by the Colonial Liner Lexington.

Reports received by the company indicate 15 have been rescued. The exact number of the crew which started from New York was uncertain, officials stated, because of crew shifts at that point, but it was believed to be 24.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 25.—(UP)—Silence imposed upon members of the crew of the Freighter Thames added today to the mystery which surrounds the burning of the vessel and the disappearance of at least 24 men.

Apparently no one knows the cause of the fire that cracked through the hold last night as the freighter wallowed in the swell of Long Island Sound. But more mysterious than that is the charge—made by George W. Wilson, master of the oyster boat—that vessels, attracted to the scene by the Thames' calls for aid, ignored the fundamental rule of the sea that the utmost assistance must be given to a stricken craft.

Hole—a darkened, soundproof, solitary cell equipped only with a lavatory—were other punishments cited at the inquiry.

Columbus, O., April 25.—(UP)—Reassuring calm settled over the state penitentiary today for the first time since Monday night's cell block fire which cost 321 lives.

Tension among 1,600 prisoners in "White City" who have refused to observe prison discipline until Warden P. E. Thomas is removed, was lessening. The men still were insistent that Thomas resign but they were less vehement and some of them volunteered to return to work, in contrast to threats of open revolt yesterday and last night.

Conditions were so quiet that Colonel Robert Haubrich, in charge of troops guarding the penitentiary, said his forces would be reduced by 200 men.

The convicts were unruly for a time last night, but apparently wearied of bickering and, with nerves frayed, most of them retired to their cells to sleep.

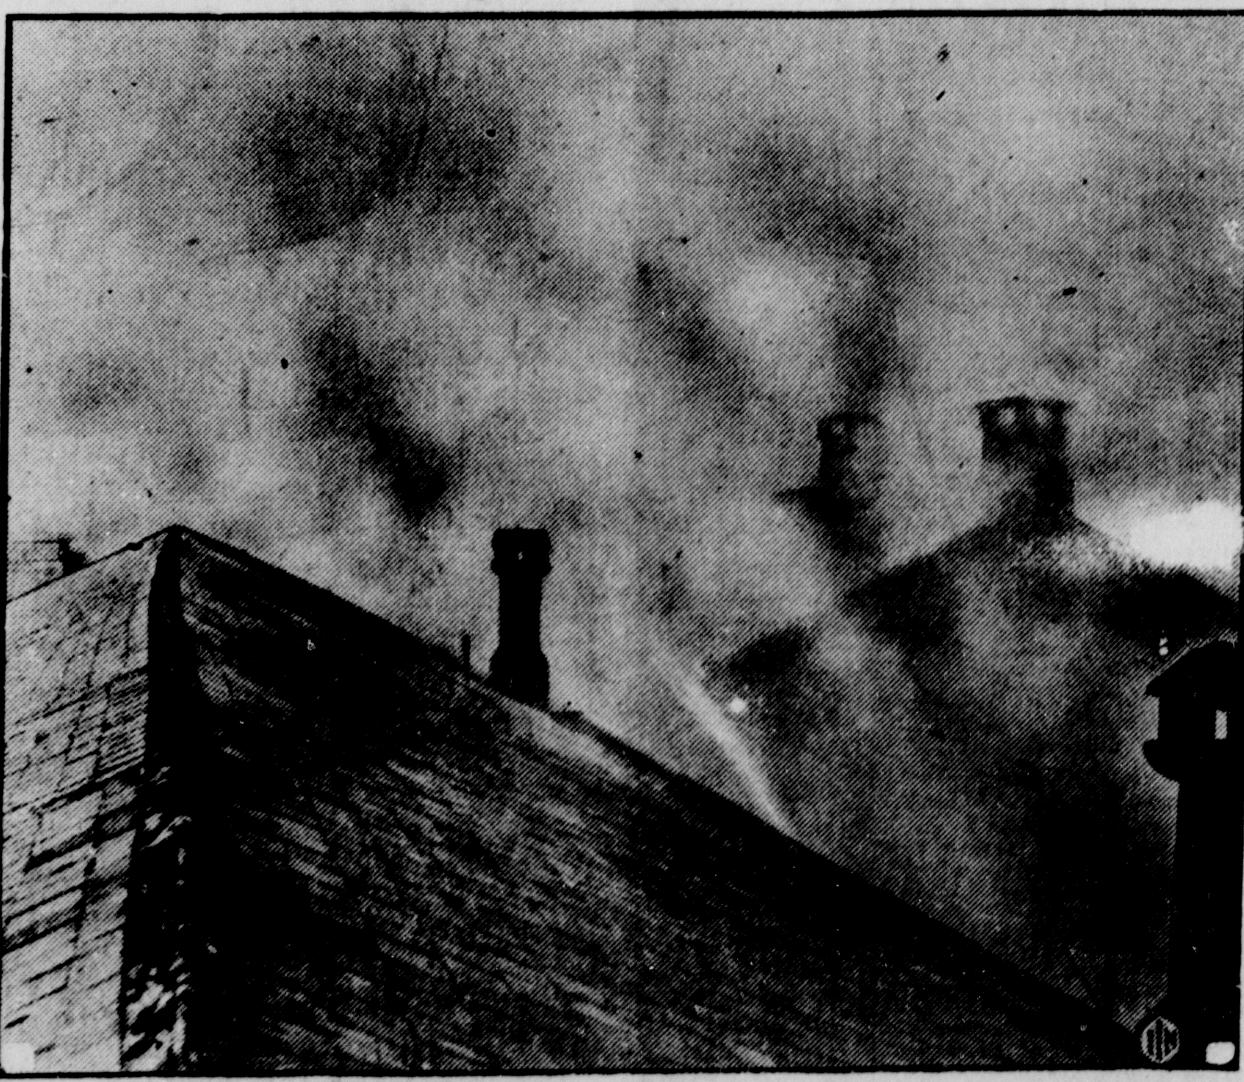

Thomas has refused to resign "because there is no reason why I should," and it was intimated that unless Attorney General Elizabeth Bettman's inquiry develops evidence of gross negligence, the governor will support him.

Bettman resumed his investigation today and officials, meantime, were preparing to transfer 550 convicts to other prisons, relieving congestion in the over-crowded penitentiary.

Evidence submitted thus far brought out five principal points:

- 1—The possibility that faulty wiring, not incendiarism, caused the blaze.
- 2—The delay in opening the cells after the fire was discovered.
- 3—The starting of two other fires by convicts.
- 4—The time the fire started and the time the first alarm was turned in.
- 5—The orders of Warden Thomas as to the release of the men from their cells.

Blazing Fire Which Cost Over 300 Lives

A view of the fire in a wing of the Ohio State Penitentiary taken from the roof of an adjoining building. This fire caused the death of over 300 convicts herded like sheep into cell blocks. Guards wrangled over keys, delaying rescues, while convicts tore wildly but in vain at prison bars as death approached.

DAYLIGHT LOOKS GOOD TO CHICAGO

AFTER A "LIGHTLESS NIGHT" FORCED UPON IT BY CITY'S POVERTY

Chicago, April 25. (AP)—Daylight looked good to Chicago today after a "lightless night" forced upon it by the city's poverty.

Nearly 12,000 street lights were reported out of order because of a lack of funds sufficient to maintain and operate the system. The city council was informed approximately $800,000 was needed to restore the lights.

On top of this another payless payday passed for Chicago school teachers and employees of the board on education. The $4,425,000 required to meet the payroll cannot be obtained before May 7 and from the citizens' rescue committee that recently saved the city from bankruptcy by raising a loan of $73,000,000.

The situation was made even more gloomy by continuing requests for appropriations to clear the city's alleys of heaps of refuse that have been collecting all winter because funds for garbage hauling have not been forthcoming.

CORRECT PLAN FIRST STEP IN HEATING

Only Specialists Authorized to Install the Steel-ripped and Gas-tight Lennox Torrid Zone Furnace

Proper planning and installation is absolutely necessary if your furnace is to perform satisfactorily. Every home presents a different problem. Every door and window means lost heat. The construction of your house, its location and exposure, must also be considered.

Accurate formulas governing pipe sizes and furnace capacities have been developed through years of experimental work at the University of Illinois, resulting in what is known as the Standard Code of the National Warm Air Heating Association. Torrid Zone dealers figure and install according to those formulas—and are granted the franchise solely on their ability to follow the scientific principles of the standard code.

On proper installation the Lennox Furnace Company guarantees to replace any part of the Torrid Zone, except grates or liners, if it wears out within ten years from date of purchase. The average life, however, based on actual service records, is 21 years.

Made by the Lennox Furnace Company, Syracuse, N. Y.—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

BOY WITH FRACTURED SKULL CONSCIOUS AFTER 100 HOURS

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—(U.P.)—A mother who sat beside the bed of her unconscious son for nearly 100 hours came back to the Ancker hospital today to tell him how he was injured.

Mrs. C. A. Franzen, mother of Martin, 15, who was just in an automobile accident, sat beside her son's bed since Easter Sunday so that her son might not be surprised when he revived in the hospital room. Late yesterday, the lad gained consciousness for a short time and gasped, "mother."

His mother quieted him and said he had been in an accident. Later he said a car came up and "brushed" him. Today the mother refreshed by her first sleep for nights returned to the hospital with renewed hope for her son's recovery. Doctors said, "Martin's condition shows improvement." Martin was semi-conscious today.

CONSTIPATION IS A HEALTH THIEF

Drive It from Your System with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Constipation steals the best out of your life. Robs you of strength, vitality, health itself! And many people do not realize that perpetual fatigue, coated tongues, bad breath, are often signs that constipation is in their system.

You must move poisonous wastes out of your system and keep them moving. But there's a right way and a wrong way. Pills, drugs and ordinary cathartics give but temporary relief—and their dose must be constantly increased to be effective.

The great natural cleanser is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A tasty cereal, which brings you iron for blood building—and, above all, corrects constipation. The abundant roughage in ALL-BRAN gently and naturally sweeps out poisonous wastes and impurities.

Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN. It's guaranteed. Two table-spoonfuls daily. Recurring cases—with every use.

You'll like the nut-like flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in many ways. Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Make muffins with it. At all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TO AID THE HIGH SCHOOL PIANO FUND

Miss Marie Sloss in Piano Recital at High School Wednesday Afternoon

Miss Marie Sloss, teacher of piano in Carleton college, is graciously giving her time and genius for the benefit of the high school grand piano fund on Wednesday, April 30 at 3 P. M. Miss Sloss is one of these delightful people who combine with great ability along musical lines, a fascinating personality that fairly sparkles. She attacks her selections in such fresh, joyous fashion that one is fairly carried along by her individuality and sheer emotional force. Her temperament is so fine and her person so striking that her concerts are made doubly enjoyable. She holds her audiences by her very real and deep musical feeling and not only by technique.

Wherever she has played, the music critics have responded with fulsome praise. This quotation from San Francisco is typical: "Marie Sloss scored a noteworthy triumph in a recital yesterday in Scottish Rite Hall. Her brilliant technique and delightful interpretative ability were exceptionally evident in Schumann's 'Carnival.' Not the least important element in her success is due to her charming personality."—San Francisco, Calif., Panama-Pacific Exposition.

It will no doubt interest the Brainerd music lovers that William McClenahan, who is studying piano under Miss Sloss at Carleton college, finds her a most delightful person and says that no one should miss the opportunity of hearing her, for in addition to her undoubted musical ability she has a personality that is altogether charming.

ENDS LIFE BY TAKING POISON

Funeral services for Wiebe Van Geest of Ironton who committed suicide Wednesday evening by taking poison, will be held at Holland, Minn., Sunday, April 27.

Mr. Van Geest had been employed at the sintering plant at Ironton for the past four months. No motive for his act is known, and he left no message. On returning home from his work and eating his evening meal on Wednesday, he retired to his room where he drank a bottle of poison. The label had been removed before taking the dose, but it is believed he took strychnine.

He is survived by a brother Henry of Brainerd, Paul of Ironton and Arty Van Geest of Holland. He also leaves two sisters, Helen and Annie Van Geest of Minneapolis.

He has been living at Ironton for the past four months, at the home of his brother Paul.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTING PLAY

"Adam and Eva" Comedy Reveals Strain on Family Pocketbook

For the first time the Junior class of the high school is presenting a play, which will be given in the near future at the school auditorium. It is a comedy revealing the strain on the family pocketbook caused by extravagance. The King family live at Long Island but spend some time at their country estate in New Jersey.

Such characters as Uncle Horace Pilgrim, addicted to chronic indigestion and "sleeping sickness," (played by Gerald Cass) and the indolent son-in-law, Clinton De Witt (played by Theodore Marcel) add greatly to Mr. King's burdens. Vivacious, winsome Eva impersonated by Elizabeth Irvine has many admirers; among them are the "imported" Lord Andrew Gordoa, alias Carl Holvick, and the gallant Dr. Delameter in the character of Robert Hanson.

The part of Julie De Witt, Eva's sister who loves her husband and "fine feathers," is played by Mildred Johnson. The role of Aunt Abby Rocker is taken by Harriet Oberg and that of the maid by Alice Nolan. But who is Adam? Does his name suggest business or romance, or both? His surname is Smith, but to us he is known as George Irvine.

The domestic situations throughout are of interest to all. As plays run, the popularity of "Adam and Eva" promises satisfaction.

Roy LaMeter's high school Pep band will furnish the music for the DeMolay play "Paying the Fidler" to be given this evening at the Washington high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. This band has played at the various basketball games this season, also at different school functions, and many favorable comments have been heard regarding their playing.

Several Brainerd citizens attended the dress rehearsal at the auditorium last evening and reported that the voices of the players carried exceptionally well in all parts of the room. The rehearsal was very successful, and much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. David Goodnature who are directing the play.

The play is being put on for the benefit of the DeMolay convalescence to be held in Brainerd the latter part of August at which time about 300 DeMolay delegates will be here as well as a number of their parents who will look over the lake region of Brainerd. The convalescence is for the entire state of Minnesota.

TO AID THE HIGH SCHOOL PIANO FUND

Miss Marie Sloss in Piano Recital at High School Wednesday Afternoon

Miss Marie Sloss, teacher of piano in Carleton college, is graciously giving her time and genius for the benefit of the high school grand piano fund on Wednesday, April 30 at 3 P. M. Miss Sloss is one of these delightful people who combine with great ability along musical lines, a fascinating personality that fairly sparkles. She attacks her selections in such fresh, joyous fashion that one is fairly carried along by her individuality and sheer emotional force. Her temperament is so fine and her person so striking that her concerts are made doubly enjoyable. She holds her audiences by her very real and deep musical feeling and not only by technique.

Wherever she has played, the music critics have responded with fulsome praise. This quotation from San Francisco is typical: "Marie Sloss scored a noteworthy triumph in a recital yesterday in Scottish Rite Hall. Her brilliant technique and delightful interpretation of Schumann's 'Carnival' and the least important element in her success is due to her charming personality."—San Francisco, Calif., Panama-Pacific Exposition.

It will no doubt interest the Brainerd music lovers that William McClenahan, who is studying piano under Miss Sloss at Carleton college, finds her a most delightful person and says that no one should miss the opportunity of hearing her, for in addition to her undoubted musical ability she has a personality that is altogether charming.

ENDS LIFE BY TAKING POISON

Funeral services for Wiebe Van Geest of Ironton who committed suicide Wednesday evening by taking poison, will be held at Holland, Minn., Sunday, April 27.

Mr. Van Geest had been employed at the enterling plant at Ironton for the past four months. No motive for his act is known, and he left no message. On returning home from his work and eating his evening meal on Wednesday, he retired to his room where he drank a bottle of poison. The label had been removed before taking the dose, but it is believed he took strychnine.

He is survived by a brother Henry of Brainerd, Paul of Ironton and Ary Van Geest of Holland. He also leaves two sisters, Helen and Annie Van Geest of Minneapolis.

He has been living at Ironton for the past four months, at the home of his brother Paul.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTING PLAY

"Adam and Eva" Comedy Reveals Strain on Family Pocketbook

For the first time the Junior class of the high school is presenting a play, which will be given in the near future at the school auditorium. It is a comedy revealing the strain on the family pocketbook caused by extravagance. The King family live at Long Island but spend some time at their country estate in New Jersey.

Such characters as Uncle Horace Pilgrim, addicted to chronic indigestion and "sleeping sickness," (played by Gerald Cass) and the indolent son-in-law, Clinton De Witt (played by Theodore Marcel) add greatly to Mr. King's burdens. Vivacious, winsome Eva impersonated by Elizabeth Irvine has many admirers; among them are the "imported" Lord Andrew Gorda, alias Carl Holvick, and the gallant Dr. Delameter in the character of Robert Hanson.

The part of Julie De Witt, Eva's sister who loves her husband and "fine feathers," is played by Mildred Johnson. The role of Aunt Abby Rocker is taken by Harriet Oberg and that of the maid by Alice Nolan. But who is Adam? Does his name suggest business or romance, or both? His surname is Smith, but to us he is known as George Irvine.

The domestic situations throughout are of interest to all. As plays run, the popularity of "Adam and Eva" promises satisfaction.

COLD WAVE GRIPS NORTHWEST

LITTLE INDICATION OF A LET-UP UNTIL TOMORROW OR SUNDAY

Chicago, April 25.—(U.P.)—A cold wave which in some sections of the country threatened killing frost to spring plantings gripped the middle west today with little indication of a let-up until tomorrow or Sunday.

In some sections of the country, particularly the Mississippi valley region, temperatures as low as 32 were reported last night while on the Pacific coast the mercury rose to 48 degrees; frost, hard enough to retard the sprouting of seeds, was reported in the northern portion of the middle west. Showers were forecast for tonight over much of the plain states and the Missouri valley, spreading eastward over portions of the Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys on Saturday. Temperature changes, the weather bureau here reported, would be slight.

Boston, April 25.—(U.P.)—At least another 24 hours of the record breaking April cold wave was in prospect for New England today.

This was the coldest April 25 in Boston in 38 years, a minimum of 24 degrees having been recorded at 4, 5 and 6 A. M. The official cold spot of New England during the night was Northfield, Vermont, where the temperature slumped to 24.

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—(U.P.)—Temperatures in southern and western Minnesota will rise tomorrow, the United States weather bureau predicted today.

Frost and freezing temperatures were reported generally throughout the state, but especially in the northern part. Freezing temperatures were reported at Devils Lake and Bismarck, N. D., but did little damage to vegetation, the meteorologists reported.

The rise in temperature will bring increasing cloudiness and rain, the bureau predicted.

COLORED BISHOP TAKES EXCEPTION TO AMOS 'N' ANDY

Boston, April 25.—(U.P.)—The radio feature, Amos 'n' Andy, pokes unjust fun at the negro race, in the opinion of Bishop W. R. Walls of the Zion A. M. E. church.

"There is a feeling throughout the country that the colored American of all elements of our population are different and sensitive to their disparagement always," he declared in a speech here last night.

"Amos and Andy give a daily exaggeration and over-emphasis upon the rapidly decreasing unlettered element of the race."

FEWER HENS TO CULL —MORE EGGS TO SELL

The eggs of many a good hen are lost every year through the lack of a properly balanced feed to keep her in condition for laying. Egg development depends largely on what the hen gets to eat.

If you want to get the most out of your flock and sell more eggs the year around use an egg making feed of demonstrated ability. Gold Medal Vitamin Egg Mash is a blend of egg making ingredients found by years of research and practical experience to get the best results. Thousands of poultry raisers are not only getting more eggs with Gold Medal Egg Mash, but are making profitable layers out of hens that would ordinarily have been culled out of the flock.

"Farm-tested" for results, just as the famous Gold Medal Flour is "Kitchen-tested"—and made with the same care and skill, Gold Medal Vitamin Egg Mash will give you more eggs to sell—and improve your flock. You can get a supply now direct from our stock.

COLD WAVE GRIPS NORTHWEST

LITTLE INDICATION OF A LET-UP UNTIL TOMORROW OR SUNDAY

Chicago, April 25.—(U.P.)—A cold wave which in some sections of the country threatened killing frost to spring plantings gripped the middle west today with little indication of a let-up until tomorrow or Sunday.

In some sections of the country, particularly the Mississippi valley region, temperatures as low as 32 were reported last night while on the Pacific coast the mercury rose to 48 degrees; frost, hard enough to retard the sprouting of seeds, was reported in the northern portion of the middle west.

Showers were forecast for tonight over much of the plain states and the Missouri valley, spreading eastward over portions of the Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys on Saturday. Temperature changes, the weather bureau here reported, would be slight.

Boston, April 25.—(U.P.)—At least another 24 hours of the record breaking April cold wave was in prospect for New England today.

This was the coldest April 25 in Boston in 38 years, a minimum of 24 degrees having been recorded at 4, 5 and 6 A. M. The official cold spot of New England during the night was Northfield, Vermont, where the temperature slumped to 24.

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—(U.P.)—Temperatures in southern and western Minnesota will rise tomorrow, the United States weather bureau predicted today.

Frost and freezing temperatures were reported generally throughout the state, but especially in the northern part. Freezing temperatures were reported at Devils Lake and Bismarck, N. D., but did little damage to vegetation, the meteorologists reported.

The rise in temperature will bring increasing cloudiness and rain, the bureau predicted.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25¢ today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Economy Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. advt. 26412F

COLORED BISHOP TAKES EXCEPTION TO AMOS 'N' ANDY

Boston, April 25.—(U.P.)—The radio feature, Amos 'n' Andy, pokes unjust fun at the negro race, in the opinion of Bishop W. K. Walls of the Zion A. M. E. church.

"There is a feeling throughout the country that the colored American of all elements of our population are different and sensitive to their disparagement always," he declared in a speech here last night.

"Amos and Andy give a daily exaggeration and over-emphasis upon the rapidly decreasing unlettered element of the race."

CAPONE POLITICAL MACHINE PROBABLE

Chicago, April 25.—(U.P.)—A Capone political machine, designed to control the republican party in Cook county, is the latest stratagem of Scarface Al, the Chicago Daily News declared today.

He recently advanced to an open attack on city hall jobs, and now it is apparent he plans to consolidate his henchmen in city offices, and labor unions with his horde of gunmen and racketeers into a powerful political machine, the News said.

FEWER HENS TO CULL—MORE EGGS TO SELL

The eggs of many a good hen are lost every year through the lack of a properly balanced feed to keep her in condition for laying. Egg development depends largely on what the hen gets to eat.

If you want to get the most out of your flock and sell more eggs the year around use an egg making feed of demonstrated ability. Gold Medal Vitamin Egg Mash is a blend of egg making ingredients found by years of research and practical experience to get the best results. Thousands of poultry raisers are not only getting more eggs with Gold Medal Egg Mash, but are making profitable layers out of hens that would ordinarily have been culled out of the flock.

"Farm-tested" for results, just as the famous Gold Medal Flour is "Kitchen-tested"—and made with the same care and skill, Gold Medal Vitamin Egg Mash will give you more eggs to sell—and improve your flock. You can get a supply now direct from our stock.

Chamber, County Board to Unite in Tourist Advertising

WILL APPROPRIATE $3,000 TO CONDUCT SEASON CAMPAIGN

TOURIST COMMITTEE AUTHORIZES PUBLICATION OF 35,000 MAPS FOR DISTRICT

TO ESTABLISH TOURIST BUREAUS, FILM RESORTS, LAKES, SPONSOR EXHIBIT

In addition to thousands of dollars resort owners will expend on individual campaigns to attract tourists to Crow Wing county this season, the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce aided by the County Board of Commissioners intend to devote approximately $3,000 this year in the interests of advertising.

Tentative plans were announced by the tourist committee of the Chamber of Commerce today setting aside approximately $2,000 to tourist advertising.

The County Board of Commissioners, realizing the value of increased tourist business to the county, will appropriate an additional $1,000 it is expected.

Of the $3,000, approximately $1,500 will be set aside for the publication and distribution of 35,000 maps and the establishment of tourist information bureaus at Brainerd and Garrison. The remaining appropriation will be expended for the Brainerd district's exhibit at the National Outdoor Life Exposition at Chicago, the filming of the district's beautiful lakes, diversified resorts and the showing of the same to service clubs in southern states next winter, the repainting of the Brainerd outdoor sign near Elk River. An appropriation will also be allotted out of this sum to the Ten Thousand Lakes—Greater Minnesota Association for its 1930 campaign.

During the year 1929 the Chamber of Commerce set aside $750 as local tourist advertising and $500 to the Ten Thousand Lakes Association while the county board appropriated $750 to the tourist campaign conducted by the Chamber and $350 to the state association.

The Ten Thousand Lakes Association has adopted as its slogan this year "Let's Make Business Better in Minnesota."

The 1930 campaign of the association is as follows:

Enlarge its activities to include industrial advertising with a view of bringing new manufacturing plants and business institutions to Minnesota.

Publication and distribution of an industrial booklet.

Place 11 tourist display advertisements in 33 magazines and newspapers reaching 29,844,416 readers.

Place 22 tourist classified advertisements in five magazines and newspapers reaching 42,682,794 readers.

Place three one-quarter page advertisements in 110 farm publications reaching 16,688,766 readers.

Place 24 classified advertisements in 11 farm publications reaching 34,296,998 readers. Total advertising planned for 1930—60 different advertisements in 159 publications reaching 123,512,974 readers.

Publish and distribute 10,000 farm booklets.

Publish and distribute 40,000 Ten Thousand Lakes Maps.

Publish and distribute 25,000 24-page illustrated booklets.

Publish and distribute an additional 25,000 illustrated booklets designed to be used especially for conventions and in tourist bureaus throughout the nation.

Publish and distribute 25,000 Minnesota books.

Prepare and distribute 15,000 rotogravure calendars for 1931.

Place an exhibit in the National Outdoor Life Exposition at Chicago which will be visited by more than 200,000 sportsmen.

Continue billboards over state highways at every entrance to Minnesota to impress the 1,600,000 tourists who will come here, with Minnesota's agricultural greatness.

Advertise in the American Automobile Association Guide books which have more than 500,000 circulation and through which the Association has a valuable hook-up with every information bureau operated by the American Automobile Association in the United States.

Provide magazines and newspapers throughout the nation with pictures and stories giving Minnesota publicity. Such publications as the Saturday Evening Post, Nature Magazine, all outdoor magazines and many metropolitan newspapers are glad to cooperate with the Association in this way because it advertises with them.

Secure time on radio to advertise Minnesota with at least one program on the National hook-up of the National Broadcasting Company.

Arrange window displays and provide material therefor in important cities to the south and east.

Continue the program instituted last year to sell Minnesota to her own people.

Increase the tourist business by at least 100,000 tourists and an additional $10,000,000.

Interest at least 2,000 farmers in other states to a point where they are prospects for Minnesota farms.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

SYNOPSIS.

ENROUTE to a friend's house, young and lovely Eve Reade, meets Kenneth Wilmer, famous artist. He persuades her to visit the Hollis, friends of his, before going on to her destination. She falls asleep on a divan to awake the next morning. Embarrassed for having spent the night, she leaves without saying good-bye. (Ken visits her the following Sunday and tells her he loves her. Her friend, Mary, warns Eve they are unsuited for one another. Next day Eve meets Norwood O'Rell, the author. He invites her to tea. Later, Eve visits the Hollis, where she again meets Ken and his artist colony friends. Eve feels very uncomfortable when she cannot enter into their discussions. She is relieved when Nory O'Rell drops in and talks with her.)

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER X.
HER eyes sought Ken; saw his sleek, dark head through a cloud of smoke. He was talking to Fifi again—they seemed almost to be quarrelling! Now he was holding a lighter for her cigarette—no, they hadn't been quarrelling for now they laughed as if at some great joke.

In a casual way they turned about, wandered out of the room. Eve heard their footsteps on the veranda.

While she listened to Nory's careless, half-dreamy remarks Eve waited for the footsteps to return. Where had Ken and Fifi gone? Why had they started away, talking briskly together?

It seemed a long time that she waited. And finally Ivy Carr said she had an early appointment, and walked out without her husband or a good night. Janet Kip was the next to go, fussing about away. And they too, said no farewell, nor did Elma or Chuck appear to notice their leaving.

And while she waited with the smile grown rather set, rather wan, Eve realized all at once what had happened. Ken had gone away with Fifi Devoe, and he wasn't coming back!

Hurt in her eyes, and her voice flat and hard, Eve turned to Nory. "Would it be all right if I go now? I'd like you to take me. If you wouldn't mind? I'm a bother—"

"Shucks, dryad." He was on his feet so quickly that she knew he had been waiting for this, and gratitude surged through her, stung her throat with the feel of tears. He took her arm, forced her to saunter carefully out of the room and out of the house.

He put her into a ramshackle little car and begged her to concentrate on sparks. "The only way to start the darn thing," he explained. "Prove the power of mind over motor. I call this assortment of tin and rubber 'Opportunity,' because she knocks once and dies. Now, then, think. Think hard."

Eve had to laugh in spite of herself as the long young fellow made cabalistic passes over the starter, tried pressing it with his right foot, switched to his left, reached down and used his hands. In the end he had to get out and crank the engine, talking to it all the time. It caught finally, and they went jogging bumpily along the road.

The hurt began to throb again in the girl's heart. Ken had wanted to see her—oh, he had been glad, coming to her swiftly, face all alight; sitting beside her, smiling as if he didn't care who knew—as if he wanted them all to know that he loved her.

Well—did he love her? Maybe it was just his way? He had thrown his arm around Fifi Devoe. And now they were out in the sweet night somewhere, those two. Perhaps Ken was holding her in his arms—that freakish little creature. . .

Eve put up her hand, pressed her fingers to her eyelids, trying to shut out that taunting vision.

Nory gave no sign that he suspected her misery, but talked in his dreamy way. At first she thought he was only musing aloud, and went on with her bitter, confused thoughts. But he caught her attention finally, and then she realized that he was not speaking at random, but because he understood and wished to help.

"You'll get used to us after a while. We're an informal lot. And irresponsible! You've no idea how irresponsible we are. Sometimes I wonder if we don't carry that too far, use it to hide selfishness. Easy enough, you know. When you believe—as most of us do—that you've got something sacred in your keeping, a light to be tended at any sacrifice to yourself or others."

"Funny," he rambled on, "How we all feel that way. Whether we're a mere pale shadow of ability or the glory of genius. We get the notion everything must stop for this, even our manners. I expect," he chuckled, "You'll be disgusted a great many times—with the way we go around babbling about 'our public'—things like that. They seem silly affectations to folks outside the game but they're real to us."

Eve murmured, "Oh, no." She was surprised to find that the pain in her heart was not the keen-edged blade it had been, and she no longer wanted to cry. But she could not keep from blurting out a question.

"And Ken? You see I've loved his pictures so long, watched for them so. It isn't as if I hadn't sort of known him a great while. Is he like this? Irresponsible and all?"

Nory paused before he answered. Not long but just the moment which meant consideration. "Ken Wilmer," he said finally, "Is the meekest human I've ever met. All up one day, all down the next. He has genius, some say, but those moods stand in his way. Folks that care for him, Nory added with a meaning not to be mistaken, "help by paying no attention. For, of course, Ken is wretched a lot. Why, I shouldn't wonder," he declared in a too casual tone, "if he were in one of his moods right now. I shouldn't wonder if he and Fifi were threshing out some plan for collaborating on a masterpiece."

"Little old Fifi's riding the wave at the moment. She's got no balance; you'll hear of her a year or two and then pfft!"

"Really! I didn't know. This is all so—so different—" They jogged along in silence and Eve thought, not too happily, that Kenneth was explained. Only she wished there'd been no need of explaining. You'd never feed sure

Object of Trial Balance

A trial balance is the testing of a ledger to discover whether the debits and credits balance by adding whether the sum of the personal credits increased by the difference between the debit and credit sums in the merchandise and impersonal accounts equals the sum of personal debits. The equality would show that the items were all correctly posted.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS COUNCIL SATURDAY

Candle Light Ceremony With Confering of Ranks to Take Place in Gym

MISS ADAIR IN CHARGE

Two Camp Fire Girls and Two Guardians Receive Rank of Torchbearer

Two Camp Fire girls and two guardians will receive the rank of Torchbearer at the Council Fire to be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Washington high school. The rank of Torchbearer is the highest rank of Camp Fire girls. Miss Marie Adair, president of the guardians association, will conduct the Council Fire, to which all parents and friends of the Camp Fire girls are urged to come.

The Council Fire Saturday evening is a candle lighting ceremony which is very impressive. Several girls will receive various ranks, and many will also be presented with the leather birthday honor.

In order to earn the leather birthday honor in Camp Fire, each girl has several requirements to fulfill. One was that she write an Indian legend and decorate it with Indian symbols. These articles are now on display in the Gruenhagen Company window. The girls have studied the tribes of Indians who have at some time lived in Minnesota. They learned the Indian names, learning the names and towns in the state which have Indian meanings. As the Camp Fire ceremonial meetings and Council Fires are based on those of the Indians, they have profited greatly by their study.

Three girls in the Oawensa group of the Harrison school, Abbie Casey, Marion Falconer and Gladys Haugens have fulfilled all the requirements for the rank of Torchbearer except for the required age which is 15 years, and all are under the age of 15.

Girls under 11 years of age are called Bluebirds and are taught games, hand work, folk dances and other interesting things by the girls working for the rank of Torchbearer. These Bluebirds will be at the Council Fire Saturday evening and take a part in the program.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS COUNCIL SATURDAY

Candle Light Ceremony With Conferring of Ranks to Take Place in Gym

MISS ADAIR IN CHARGE

Two Camp Fire Girls and Two Guardians Receive Rank of Torchbearer

Two Camp Fire girls and two guardians will receive the rank of Torch-bearer at the Council Fire to be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Washington high school. The rank of Torch-bearer is the highest rank of Camp Fire girls. Miss Marie Adair, president of the guardians association, will conduct the Council Fire, to which all parents and friends of the Camp Fire girls are urged to come Saturday evening.

The Council Fire Saturday evening is a candle lighting ceremony which is very impressive. Several girls will receive various ranks, and many will also be presented with the leather birthday honor.

In order to earn the leather birthday honor in Camp Fire, each girl had several requirements to fulfill. One was that she write an Indian legend and decorate it with Indian symbols.
These articles are now on display in the Gruenhagen Company window.

The girls have studied the tribes of Indians who have at some time lived in Minnesota. They learned the Indian names, learning the names and towns in the state which have Indian meanings. As the Camp Fire ceremonial meetings and Council Fires are based on those of the Indians, they have profited greatly by their study.

Three girls in the Oawensa group of the Harrison school, Abbie Casey,
Marion Falconer and Gladys Haugene have fulfilled all the requirements for the rank of Torchbearer except for the required age which is 15 years, and all are under the age of 15.

Girls under 11 years of age are called Bluebirds and are taught games, hand work, folk dances and other interesting things by the girls working for the rank of Torchbearer. These Bluebirds will be at the Council Fire Saturday evening and take a part in the program.

Investigating High School Charges for Auditorium

AFTER the months of examination, discussion and investigation by the school board and the innumerable ballots taken on the matter of rentals of the high school auditorium and gymnasium and the distinction made between commercial use of the quarters and free use for educational purposes, one would think the matter had been closed and settled. A committee named by the school board has about concluded formulation of rules for use of auditorium and gymnasium.

All this has been given publicity and editorial mention by the Dispatch, and the distinction drawn between commercial and free use. Further mention has been made, that, as every one knows, this is the first season of operation and the board is proceeding carefully so as to protect the interests of all taxpayers.

And now comes a proposal in the Chamber of Commerce to investigate these rental charges because some individual or some organization claims the charges are "exorbitant." Instead of naming a special committee to investigate, the Chamber could have extended a cordial invitation to some school board member, say Dr. George H. Ribbel, and the latter would have given them a short talk telling of the difficulties experienced in trying to arrive at a fair and equitable charge.

In the Dispatch of March 24, in a lengthy statement, it was declared that all school activities, whether charged for or not, get free use of the auditorium, as it is an essential part of any modern high school. Educational, and not money making purposes, get free use of the auditorium, subject, of course, to the approval of the school board.

The interests of all the taxpayers are to be considered at all times. To give the auditorium free or below cost of operation, for commercial purposes, would cause the school board to run in competition with taxpayers of Brainerd who operate halls at a profit, being such halls as the U. C. T. auditorium, Iron Exchange hall, Moose hall, Scandia hall, etc. If the high school auditorium is operated below cost for commercial purposes, it would result in benefiting a comparatively few citizens at the expense of all the rest of the taxpayers. To operate at bare cost of maintenance would leave no surplus to cover free use of the auditorium for educational purposes.

Naturally the school board would hesitate to ask for an increased amount of taxes for the operation of part of its school plant, not used for school purposes, when the needs of the school district demand improvements in the grade building conditions of the city which have long been neglected.

The same rules hold in regard to use of the gymnasium. A charge is made for commercial use. An essential part is the use of showers and this requires hot water. It was found, for instance, that business men using the gymnasium and paying for limited use of same and the showers, used up a ton of coal to get the water hot. The coal cost $7 and the rental asked at the time was $5.

True, auditorium and gymnasium are community centers, but persons or organizations using them for profit must expect to pay rentals and these are based on figures thought to be as equitable as the board can arrive at after examination of other schools, present costs of operation, a fair provision for depreciation and their experience in present operations.

The Waste of Unpaved Highways

MINNESOTA is experiencing now, and will be experiencing for some weeks to come, nature's annual demonstration of the folly of trying to maintain unpaved highways where traffic is heavy, says the Duluth Herald.

The frost is coming out of the ground, and until it is out and the roadbeds are settled for the summer, the people of Minnesota will get relatively little use of their highways, no matter how well graveled and maintained they may be in summer.

This week's bulletin from the state highway department reported that all routes are passable, but that the department cannot guarantee that they will remain passable. Load restrictions have been placed, as they should be, on many of the more heavily traveled highways, and of course that means that the state will not get the value out of these roads that it should until the spring process is completed and the roads are settled again.

What is true on virtually all of the graveled highways was true, for instance, on State Highway No. 1 between Duluth and the Twin Cities every spring until it was paved. Now, being paved, it is available for all kinds of traffic and every kind of load, regardless of weather conditions.

Not only is the state deprived of the full use of many of its roads for a month or more in the spring, but the effort to keep up heavily traveled highways that are unpaved is extravagantly expensive. It is not only very costly but it is, indeed, impossible. Maintenance crews can put a good graveled highway in perfect condition in the morning, and traffic can tear it down before sundown.

Minnesota ought, by a large bond issue, to speed up its paving program. The saving in cost of maintenance will pay for the paving, and besides the state will have the use of its roads all of the time and not just part of the time.

WITH contractors ready to start about May 1 on 266 miles of paving work on the Minnesota trunk highways, and with 284 miles of grading either under way, under contract, or advertised for letting, detour signs are beginning to make their appearance on the trunk highways, and they will be more numerous this summer than ever before.

STATE highway patrolmen are checking "one-eyed" cars, and other serious defects in automobile lighting equipment. This will be followed shortly by checking up on glaring lights.

ALMOST a half billion dollars was collected in gasoline taxes in the 48 states in 1929, according to information compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

SPRING is here according to the almanac, but it is astonishing the amount of coal and wood one has to buy these days to keep the furnace going.

THE 13th district of Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers will hold its annual convention at Cloquet on April 26.

MORE than 1,200 educators attended the annual Schoolmen's week at the University of Minnesota.

About Lakes "Drying Up"

In a letter to E. V. Willard, State Commissioner of Drainage, St. Paul, Minn., a copy given to the Dispatch for publication, C. E. Lum of Nisswa, writes:

With reference to enclosed clipping from "The Brainerd Dispatch," I would like to make a suggestion which is voiced by a good many people in regard to lakes which are "rapidly drying up."

Instead of building new dams, why not use the dams which are already in; Last summer and fall I saw several dams in northern Minnesota which were wide open and had been that way for months. In my opinion there was only one reason for this and that was to help out the water power in Minneapolis for a few individuals and try to improve navigation in the Mississippi river below St. Paul—a joke!

If you really want to conserve the water in the lakes of northern Minnesota just use a few of the dams which are already constructed.

Investigating High School Charges for Auditorium

AFTER the months of examination, discussion and investigation by the school board and the innumerable ballots taken on the matter of rentals of the high school auditorium and gymnasium and the distinction made between commercial use of the quarters and free use for educational purposes, one would think the matter had been closed and settled. A committee named by the school board has about concluded formulation of rules for use of auditorium and gymnasium.

All this has been given publicity and editorial mention by the Dispatch, and the distinction drawn between commercial and free use. Further mention has been made, that, as every one knows, this is the first season of operation and the board is proceeding carefully so as to protect the interests of all taxpayers.

And now comes a proposal in the Chamber of Commerce to investigate these rental charges because some individual or some organization claims the charges are "exorbitant." Instead of naming a special committee to investigate, the Chamber could have extended a cordial invitation to some school board member, say Dr. George H. Ribbel, and the latter would have given them a short talk telling of the difficulties experienced in trying to arrive at a fair and equitable charge.

In the Dispatch of March 24, in a lengthy statement, it was declared that all school activities, whether charged for or not, get free use of the auditorium, as it is an essential part of any modern high school. C. Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society In Timely Suggestions

Treating Gladiolus Bulbs for Disease

It was only a few years ago that the gladiolus grower thought that he was dealing with a product that was immune to disease. Bulbs were bought and sold indiscriminately and no measures were taken to prevent diseases. In this way the infection was spread rapidly and at present diseased bulbs are very common. Nearly every amateur has the experience of losing some of his valuable bulbs and there are very few collections which do not show evidence of the trouble. This may not be serious at present but if the bulbs are not treated, but if eventually lose the entire collection.

Four diseases are known among Gladiolus bulbs. Of these, Scab, Dry Rot and Hard Rot are the most common. Bulbs with Scab have brown spots on the fleshy portion of the bulb. In Hard Rot and Dry Rot the bulb dries up and turns brown. All of these are transmitted through the soil. Hence the warning to plant your bulbs in ground where glads have not grown for three years. This is very important and if this is not done, you will find that your bulbs will run out.

Up to two years ago, the various methods of treating bulbs for disease were very unsatisfactory. Experiments at the Agricultural Colleges have given us a method that is nearly 100 percent perfect. The preparation used is Calogreen, which is a chemical put out by the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of St. Louis, Mo., and originally intended as a preventative for brown patch on lawns. This may be obtained from your local druggist at a cost of about $2.00 per pound. A pound will treat about one bushel of bulbs, so that the cost of treating a small amount of bulbs is very small. The directions for use are: Place in a 14 quart pail one pound of Calogreen and add 10 quarts of water. Stir thoroughly. Make a container of screen that will just fit into the pail. Stir the bulbs as the Calogreen will settle to the bottom. Lift the bulbs in the screen and allow them to drain for a minute or two. Then plant immediately.

Another treatment is soaking the bulbs in a solution of Bichloride of Mercury 1 to 1,000 for two hours. This is not nearly as effective, though the cost is less. Semasan has not shown the results which is claimed for it. If you value your glad bulbs, better treat them this year.

Aces Of The Air Find Toasted Coffee Has Truer Flavor

*Flying Cowboy and Arkansas Blackhawk In Cup-for Cup Comparison
Immediately Note Richer Flavor of Nash's Toasted Coffee*

UP IN the air men learn to judge with extreme accuracy. The thrill of threading one's way among the clouds, the constant vigilance, the deadly accuracy that must be maintained at all times, makes everything take on a new significance.

Clothing, food, hours of rest, all are looked upon with the keen and analytical eyes of this new existence above the earth. Realizing that aviators, their senses unusually developed, are keen judges, two well-known flyers, one from the South and one from the North, were recently asked to make a comparison of coffee roasted by old-fashioned methods and coffee roasted by the new process recently developed by the Nash Coffee Company.

An outstanding laboratory of food chemists had reported that coffee roasted by the Nash process develops 35.7% more flavor than the same identical coffee roasted by old-fashioned methods. To determine the extent to which this increased flavor would be noticeable to aviators, C. B. McMahan, the flying cowboy, and Ellis Fagan, Jr., one of the famous Arkansas Blackhawks, were asked to make the comparison.

Both men were given two cups of coffee—one prepared from coffee roasted by ordinary methods and the other from the same coffee roasted. They were asked to taste the two coffees and then indicate which contained the richest, deepest and most satisfying flavor.

Both immediately chose the cup prepared from Nash's Toasted Coffee.

"Clear minds and iron nerves are necessary in the air," Mr. McMahan said. "Until I began to fly, I never realized how good, how invigorating, a cup of coffee could be. We airmen drink a lot of coffee during the day and are particular about the flavor. I believe I know good coffee. I made this comparison immediately after coming down from a flight—just when coffee tastes the best. It didn't take me long—the added richness of flavor which Nash's Toasted Coffee possesses was apparent to me immediately."

"What a difference!" Mr. Fagan exclaimed. "Really, Nash's Toasted Coffee has so much more true coffee flavor that there wasn't much of a comparison to make. Nash's Toasted Coffee impressed me as not only being richer, but the flavor seems to linger longer, to permeate one's sense of taste with a most tempting bouquet."

"Clear Minds and Iron Nerves Necessary in Air," Says Flying Cowboy

There is perhaps no more picturesque a personality in aviation today than C. B. McMahan, the flying cowboy. He served in the aviation corp during the World War. Fame came when he placed among the leaders in the Trans-Continental Air Derby. Mr. McMahan is shown here making the comparison between roasted and Nash's Toasted Coffee as possessing the richer, truer coffee flavor.

A New Cake—Try This Simple Recipe

Miss Esther Moran, Home Economics Authority, author and lecturer, has created some new recipes in which coffee is used as a flavoring. In this simple chocolate cake, coffee not only adds its own deliciousness but enhances the other flavors as well.

2 sq. bitter chocolate 1 c. sugar
1/2 c. brown sugar 2 eggs
1/2 c. Nash's Toasted Coffee 1/2 c. Nash's Toasted Coffee infusion
1 1/2 c. pastry flour 1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 c. butter (scant)

Cook chocolate, brown sugar, and one-half cup Nash's Toasted Coffee infusion until creamy. Cool. Cream butter, add sugar and beat until cream colored. Beat yolks of eggs until stiff, add to creamed mixture and beat. Add cooked mixture. Sift flour and soda, then add coffee and flour alternately. Bake twenty-five minutes at 350° F. Frost upper layer with fudge icing.

Scientists Prove Toasting Gives More Flavor

To determine exactly how much the Nash toasting process enriches coffee, the Van Cleave Laboratories analyzed two lots of coffee—one Nash's Toasted Coffee, and the other the same grade coffee developed by old-fashioned roasting. The Laboratories found that the coffee which had been roasted possessed 35.7% more flavor than the same coffee which had been roasted by old-fashioned methods.

Discoverer of Toasting Process

Mr. L. K. Watrous, chief coffee expert of the Nash Coffee Company, discoverer of the new process, whereby coffee is roasted instead of toasted. Mr. Watrous' toasting process has been found to develop a richer, deeper and truer flavored coffee, because toasting seals the surface of the coffee berry and stops the usual "roasting out" of flavor producing oils.

All of the Flavor Retained by Sealing in Vacuum

There is only one way to insure absolutely fresh and flavorful coffee—and that is by vacuum packing. Nash's Toasted Coffee always reaches you in the same fresh and flavorful condition as when it comes from the Nash toasters, because it is sealed immediately in vacuum.

While vacuum packed coffee will keep absolutely fresh over a period of years, all other types of containers permit the flavor to begin escaping immediately. From then on until you receive the coffee, the flavor is escaping hourly. Vacuum packing makes absolutely certain that when you order Nash's Toasted Coffee from your grocer you will receive the same rich fragrance it had the moment it came from the Nash Toasters.

The merit seal of the Good Housekeeping Institute will be found on every can of Nash's Toasted Coffee.

Treating Gladiolus Bulbs for Disease

It was only a few years ago that the gladiolus grower thought that he was dealing with a product that was immune to disease. Bulbs were bought and sold indiscriminately and no measures were taken to prevent diseases. In this way the infection was spread rapidly and at present diseased bulbs are very common. Nearly every amateur has the experience of losing some of his valuable bulbs and there are very few collections which do not show evidence of the trouble. This may not be serious at present but if the bulbs are not treated, you will eventually lose the entire collection.

Four diseases are known among Gladiolus bulbs. Of these, Scab, Dry Rot and Hard Rot are the most common. Bulbs with Scab have brown spots on the fleshy portion of the bulb. In Hard Rot and Dry Rot the bulb dries up and turns brown. All of these are transmitted through the soil. Hence the warning to plant your bulbs in ground where glads have not grown for three years. This is very important and if this is not done, you will find that your bulbs will run out.

Up to two years ago, the various methods of treating bulbs for disease were very unsatisfactory. Experiments at the Agricultural Colleges have given us a method that is nearly 100 percent perfect. The preparation used is Calogreen, which is a chemical put out by the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of St. Louis, Mo., and originally intended as a preventative for brown patch on lawns. This may be obtained from your local druggist at a cost of about $2.00 per pound. A pound will treat about one bushel of bulbs, so that the cost of treating a small amount of bulbs is very small. The directions for use are: Place in a 14 quart pail one pound of Calogreen and add 10 quarts of water. Stir thoroughly. Make a container of screen that will just fit into the pail. Stir thoroughly each time before immersing the bulbs as the Calogreen will settle to the bottom. Lift the bulbs in the screen and allow them to drain for a minute or two. Then plant immediately.

Another treatment is soaking the bulbs in a solution of Bichloride of Mercury 1 to 1,000 for two hours. This is not nearly as effective, though the cost is less. Semasan has not shown the results which is claimed for it.

If you value your glad bulbs, better treat them this year.

Aces Of The Air Find Toasted Coffee Has Truer Flavor

Flying Cowboy and Arkansas Blackhawk In Cup for Cup Comparison
Immediately Note Richer Flavor of Nash's Toasted Coffee

UP IN the air men learn to judge with extreme accuracy. The thrill of threading one's way among the clouds, the constant vigilance, the deadly accuracy that must be maintained at all times, makes everything take on a new significance.

Clothing, food, hours of rest, all are looked upon with the keen and analytical eyes of this new existence above the earth. Realizing that aviators, their senses unusually developed, are keen judges, two well-known flyers, one from the South and one from the North, were recently asked to make a comparison of coffee roasted by old-fashioned methods and coffee toasted by the new process recently developed by the Nash Coffee Company.

An outstanding laboratory of food chemists had reported that coffee toasted by the Nash process develops 35.7% more flavor than the same identical coffee roasted by old-fashioned methods. To determine the extent to which this increased flavor would be noticeable to aviators, C. B. McMahan, the flying cowboy, and Ellis Fagan, Jr., one of the famous Arkansas Blackhawks, were asked to make the comparison.

Both men were given two cups of coffee—one prepared from coffee roasted by ordinary methods and the other from the same coffee toasted. They were asked to taste the two coffees and then indicate which contained the richest, deepest and most satisfying flavor.

Both immediately chose the cup prepared from Nash's Toasted Coffee.

"Clear minds and iron nerves are necessary in the air," Mr. McMahan said. "Until I began to fly, I never realized how good, how invigorating, a cup of coffee could be. We airmen drink a lot of coffee during the day and are particular about the flavor. I believe I know good coffee. I made this comparison immediately after coming down from a flight—just when coffee tastes the best. It didn't take me long—the added richness of flavor which Nash's Toasted Coffee possesses was apparent to me immediately."

FISHER, SUHR SET PACE FOR 20 ROOKIES IN BIG LEAGUES

FISHER LEADS IN BATTING .517 AVERAGE

HAD BEEN DISCARDED BY McGRAW AS NOT OF BIG LEAGUE TIMBER

SUHR LIVING UP TO HIS COAST RECORD BY SLUGGING .436 IN 6 GAMES

By DIXON STEWART (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25.—George Fisher, St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, and Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman, are setting the pace for the group of 20 rookies holding regular positions in 1930 major league line-ups. Fisher, discarded by Manager John McGraw of the Giants as incapable of hitting big league pitching, is leading the National League batters with an average of .517. The 29-year-old rookie, slated for immediate return to the minors, got a chance because of an injury to Ernest Orsatti, and has made 15 hits, including two doubles and a homer, in 21 times at bat.

Suhr, purchased from San Francisco, is living up to his coast slugging record with an average of .436 in six games.

Manager Donie Bush of the Chicago White Sox is favorably impressed with the showings of Smead Jolly, Catcher John Riddle, Shortstop Ernie Smith and Outfielder James Moore and predicts that the entire quartet will make good.

Manager Bob Shawkey has been fortunate with his rookies. Third Baseman Ben Chapman is slugging .300 and fielding well but Dusty Cooke made a weak start.

The Giants also opened the season with Outfielder Wallie Roettger, who appears to have solved McGraw's center field problem. Eddie Marshall has been fielding sensationally at second base.

Jonah Goldman, Cleveland's rookie shortstop, and Otis Miller, Red Sox third baseman, also have shown well in the field but disappointingly at bat. Tony Cuccinello, new Red Sox third baseman, and Charlie Encke, filling in for the Pirates during Pie Traynor's illness, are fielding capable and have batting averages of .262.

Johnny Neun, who had a previous trial with the Tigers, has displaced George Sisler at first base for the Braves. Rookie Bill Sweeney failed to hit and is sharing the Red Sox first base assignment with the veteran Phil Todd.

John Stone, purchased from Toronto, has clubbed the ball for a .400 average and appears to have won the center field post with the Tigers over Elias Fuld, former Yankee.

Hitting averages for the rookies who started the season as regulars are:

Salesrooms are located at a street and Third Ave. N. E., where the new De Soto Straight Eight, the lowest-priced eight in the world, and the famous De Soto Six, are on display.

As is to be expected of a companion car to the De Soto Six which, with a twelve-month's total of $1,065 cars, led the field of low-price sires as the largest selling first-year car ever produced, the De Soto Straight Eight is finding enthusiastic nation-wide acceptance. Much favorable comment concerning this new car has been made by those who have visited the show rooms.

"Sarah and Son"

Ruth Chatterton, the distinguished actress of the stage and screen, recently seen with Clive Brook in "The Laughing Lady," plays the leading role in the stirring all-talking dramatization of Timothy Shea's well known novel, "Sarah and Son" at the Paramount tonight and Friday.

"Sarah and Son" is a deeply moving story of mother love, effectively dramatized by Paramount and superbly played by Miss Chatterton and her supporting cast. In this picture Miss Chatterton's role of the mother is quite different from the usual interpretation. For there are no heroics, no hysterics, no false appeals to sentimentality. Instead, simplicity and later on, a sophisticated outlook on life is the structure upon which the play and character are developed. Miss Chatterton's sympathy and understanding for the role and her ability to project the character in terms of the believable are a tribute to her qualities as an artist of the first rank.

BIG ENTRY LIST FEATURES 21ST ANNUAL TOURNEY

2,500 ATHLETES ENTERED, SOME OF FINEST SPRINTERS IN THE WORLD

BRACEY, LELAND, TILAN EACH HAVE RECORD OF 9.4 SECONDS FOR CENTURY

By GENE FILLETTE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Des Moines, April 25.—(U.P.)—The 21st annual Drake relays began today with a big entry list and with many records likely to fall.

Across the cinder paths and the greensward in the big red brick stadium at Drake.

Some 2,500 entrants will contest each other and the pit seconds of the start watch for the shiny cups and medals and bright ribbons that are the trophies.

Major John L. Griffith of Chicago, official starter, fired the pistol that sent the first field of relay racers down the track to inaugurate the 1930 games. University, college and high school preliminaries were on the program today with one final race. Six stiff was competition in some of the events that records were threatened in the preliminaries.

Classed as the finest sprinters the world has produced, Bracey, Leland and Tilan prepared for preliminary heats of the 100-yard-dash—the race in which each has a record of 9.4 seconds.

With them to add to the class of the meet were other university heroes who performances have established or equalled records in many of the relay and special events on the program.

High school athletes by the hundred greeted their teeth and worked their hearts out for "dear old coach" and "dear old school" and between times learned from observation how the stars of university and college perform.

Thirty universities, thirty-seven colleges and ninety-nine high schools were entered, representing such widely separated parts of the United States as Washington, Texas, Minnesota and Ohio.

Nine of the schools in the western conference and all of the members of the Big Six and Missouri Valley conferences have entered the games.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES FIGHT IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

London, April 25.—(U.P.)—Great Britain today faced a difficult uphill fight in its effort to avenge a 1929 defeat by Germany and reach the inter-zone finals of Davis Cup competition.

The British team, early favorites, suffered an unexpected setback in the opening matches of the first-round match with Germany at Queen's club, Kensington.

Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, England's greatest singles player, dropped a 5-set battle to Dr. Heinz Landmann of Germany, 6-3, 8-6, 5-7, 4-6, 6-4, and Harold G. N. Lee, England's new international player, was trailing Dr. Daniel Prenn of Germany 6-4, 7-9, 6-3, when their match was called because of darkness.

FISHER, SUHR SET PACE FOR 20 ROOKIES IN BIG LEAGUES

FISHER LEADS IN BATTING .517 AVERAGE

HAD BEEN DISCARDED BY McGRAW AS NOT OF BIG LEAGUE TIMBER

SUHR LIVING UP TO HIS COAST RECORD BY SLUGGING .436 IN 6 GAMES

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 25.—George Fisher, St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, and Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman, are setting the pace for the group of 20 rookies holding regular positions in 1930 major league line-ups.

Fisher, discarded by Manager John McGraw of the Giants as incapable of hitting big league pitching, is leading the National League batters with an average of .517. The 29-year-old rookie, slated for immediate return to the minors, got a chance because of an injury to Ernest Orsatti, and has made 15 hits, including two doubles and a home run in 29 times at bat.

Suhr, purchased from San Francisco, is living up to his coast slugging record with an average of .436 in six games.

Manager Donie Bush of the Chicago White Sox is favorably impressed with the showings of Sneak Jolly, Catcher John Riddle, Shortstop Ernie Smith and Outfielder James Moore and predicts that the entire quartet will make good.

Manager Bob Shawkey has been fortunate with his rookies. Third Baseman Ben Chapman is slugging .300 and fielding well but Dusty Cooke made a weak start.

The Giants also opened the season with Outfielder Wallie Roettger, who appears to have solved McGraw's center field problem. Eddie Marshall has been fielding sensationally at second base.

Jonah Goldman, Cleveland's rookie shortstop, and Otis Miller, Red Sox third baseman, also have shown well in the field but disappointingly at bat. Tony Cuccinello, new Red Sox third baseman, and Charlie Engle, filling in for the Pirates during Pie Traynor's illness, are fielding capable and have batting averages of .262.

Johnny Neun, who had a previous trial with the Tigers, has displaced George Sisler at first base for the Braves. Rookie Bill Sweeney failed to hit and is sharing the Red Sox first base assignment with the veteran Phil Todd.

John Stone, purchased from Toronto, has clubbed the ball for a .400 average and appears to have won the center field post with the Tigers over Elias Funk, former Yankee.

Hitting averages for the rookies who started the season as regulars are:

Local Dealer Appointment is Announced by De Soto

The appointment of Forsythe Motors Inc. as local distributors for the De Soto Motor Corporation, a division of Chrysler Motors, was announced recently. Salesrooms are located at A street and Third Ave. N. E. where the new De Soto Straight Eight, the lowest-priced eight in the world, and the famous De Soto Six, are on display.

As is to be expected of a companion car to the De Soto Six which, with a twelve-month's total of 81,065 cars, led the field of low-price sires as the largest selling first-year car ever produced, the De Soto Straight Eight is finding enthusiastic nation-wide acceptance. Much favorable comment concerning this new car has been made by those who have visited the show rooms.

"Sarah and Son"

Ruth Chatterton, the distinguished actress of the stage and screen, recently seen with Olive Brook in "The Laughing Lady," plays the leading role in the stirring all-talking dramatization of Timothy Sheen's well known novel, "Sarah and Son" at the Paramount tonight and Friday.

"Sarah and Son" is a deeply moving story of mother love, effectively dramatized by Paramount and superbly played by Miss Chatterton and her supporting cast. In this picture Miss Chatterton's role of the mother is quite different from the usual interpretation. For there are no heroics, no hysterics, no false appeals to sentimentality. Instead, simplicity and later on, a sophisticated outlook on life is the structure upon which the play and character are developed. Miss Chatterton's sympathy and understanding for the role and her ability to project the character in terms of the believable are a tribute to her qualities as an artist of the first rank.

BIG ENTRY LIST FEATURES 21ST ANNUAL TOURNEY

2,500 ATHLETES ENTERED, SOME OF FINEST SPRINTERS IN THE WORLD

BRACEY, LELAND, TILAN EACH HAVE RECORD OF 9.4 SECONDS FOR CENTURY

By GENE FILLETTE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Des Moines, April 25.—(UP)—The 21st annual Drake relays began today with a big entry list and with many records likely to fall.

Across the cinder paths and the greensward in the big red brick stadium at Drake.

Some 2,500 entrants will contest each other and the pit seconds of the stop watch for the shiny cups and medals and bright ribbons that are the trophies.

Major John L. Griffith of Chicago, official starter, fired the pistol that sent the first field of relay racers down the track to inaugurate the 1930 games. University, college and high school preliminaries were on the program today with one final race. So stiff was competition in some of the events that records were threatened in the preliminaries.

Classed as the finest sprinters the world has produced, Bracey, Leland and Tilan prepared for preliminary heats of the 100-yard-dash—the race in which each has a record of 9.4 seconds.

With them to add to the class of the meet were other university heroes who performances have established or equalled records in many of the

relay and special events on the program.

High school athletes by the hundred grited their teeth and worked their hearts out for "dear old coach" and "dear old school" and between times learned from observation how the stars of university and college perform.

Thirty universities, thirty-seven colleges and ninety-nine high schools were entered, representing such widely separated parts of the United States as Washington, Texas, Minnesota and Ohio.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES FIGHT IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

London, April 25.—(UP)—Great Britain today faced a difficult uphill fight in its effort to avenge a 1929 defeat by Germany and reach the inter-zone finals of Davis Cup competition.

The British team, early favorites, suffered an unexpected setback in the opening matches of the first-round match with Germany at Queen's club, Kensington.

Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, England's greatest singles player, dropped a 5-set battle to Dr. Heinz Landmann of Germany, 6-3, 8-6, 5-7, 4-6, 6-4, and Harold G. N. Lee, England's new international player, was trailing Dr. Daniel Prenn of Germany 6-4, 7-9, 6-3, when their match was called because of darkness.

England's Costly Blunder

The Revolutionary war cost England nearly $500,000,000, besides the loss of the colonies and about 50,000 soldiers.
